

Outcome Enterprise™ Interoperability

Error proofing, time savings, timeliness of data and new functionality are technical feats that may be interesting but the lasting transformation of this advance is the portability of healthcare information and its forward migration into every setting where the art and science of care occurs.

BoundaryMedical is committed to advancing healthcare interoperability and automation -- our current approach to this problem is depicted in the diagram (right).

Outcome Enterprise™

